

National and Local Government Raising Standards Across Schools : A Literature Review

Christopher Savory, M. Walker, Peter Rudd

How do national and local government work together to raise school standards? This review of relevant literature provides an up-to-date picture of the context within which this educational priority is being implemented. The report: identifies the main roles that national government and local education authorities take in relation to raising school standards considers what the literature says about the relative importance and effectiveness of these various roles examines what the literature reveals about the nature and effectiveness of national-local partnership working and develops a series of signposts relating to the raising standards literature. The literature is examined in detail and key findings concern: the national government context the local government context constraints on local education authorities local education authority areas of working and partnership working. Useful diagrams explain the LEA role in school improvement and local and national partnership activities. An extensive reference list and recommendations for further reading are included, making the report an invaluable reference tool. The report is important reading for local authority staff, schools and policy makers concerned with raising school standards.

- Natural English: Class Cassettes Intermediate level
- Nat Geo Traveler New York City
- Naturalistische Novellen in Italien Und Osterreich
- Naturally Saponified
- Native and Naturalized Leguminosae \(Fabaceae\) of the United States : Exclusive of Alaska and Hawaii
- National Gallery Technical Bulletin: v. 14
- A Nation Born in a Day : How God` Land Grant to Abraham Affects World Affairs and the End Times, and How You Can Partner with God in This Coming Event
- The National Health Act : A Guide