Natmed4u.com - A View on Cancer : Natural Medicine in Cancer Treatment & Prevention

Ronald J Fisher Nd, Caryn H Wichmann Nd

A View on Cancer was inspired by the clients who came to our clinic seeking natural medicine support for their cancer treatment. It took many hours of work to find the best alternatives for each client. Eventually we developed a checklist approach to make sure that we covered the many complicated issues. The checklist developed into this book which provides a structured approach applicable to anyone with cancer, or anyone planning to prevent cancer. The key message of the book is that no matter how advanced the cancer, a strategy of treating the underlying cause of your cancer has considerable benefits and may eventually restore you to good health even if your medical options for a cure are limited. We highlight the research that shows that 95% of cancers are caused by a combination of lifestyle and environmental issues. The reason this checklist approach has been so successful is that we address the full range of underlying causes. While a medical treatment like chemotherapy may be important to treat an aggressive cancer, it is also important at the same time to address the underlying cause so that your body can manage both the cancer and the treatment. The checklist approach also reduces the chances that a cancer will re-occur and is useful for someone at risk of developing cancer, to use as a preventative tool. If there is no medical treatment for your cancer then this book has considerable benefits for you. It provides you with practical ways of helping your body manage the situation and allowing you to live with cancer. The authors, Ronald Fisher, ND and Caryn Wichmann, ND are qualified naturopathic doctors and their clinic is in Brisbane, Australia.
